

The Echo

Vassar High School

Vassar, Michigan

1965

Dedication

MR. LOREN WHITNEY

MISS KATHERINE DEERY

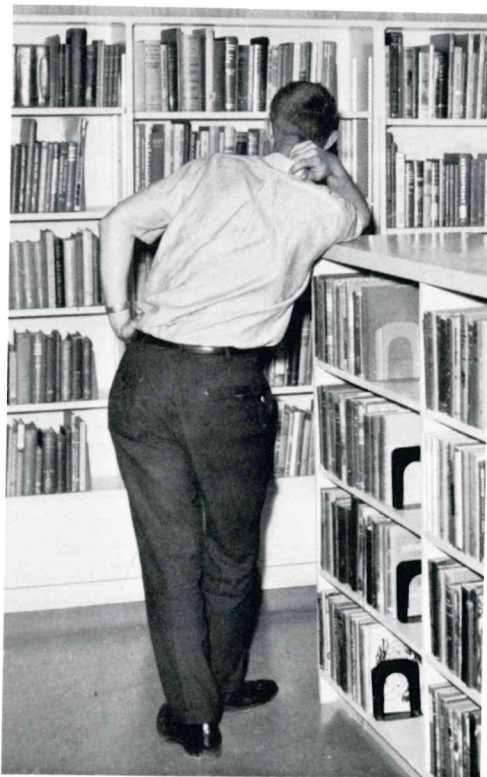

Several of our teachers are leaving us this year. Among them are two whom we shall miss particularly; most of us have known them well, for they have been with us for some time. Here with regret we say farewell to both, and we wish them well.

To Miss Katherine Deery of the cheerful whistle, the quick, sharp wit, and of the colorful expression (Who can forget, "Is there a student in the house?"), we dedicate this book.

And to Mr. Loren Whitney, long our friend and adviser, whose patience with us may have been sometimes strained, but was never really lost, we also dedicate the Echo of 1965.

Under the direction of its new leader, Mr. Heath, the band had a good season. They participated in the usual events of marching at football games, presenting concerts, moneymaking activities, and also played at the dedication of the new Vassar historical marker. For the first time the band had a president and a council. The president was Susan Rollinger, and the council members were Dennis Vargo, Ann Davis, David DeCou, Barbara Hornung, Dick Opperman, and Barbara Rollinger.

All School Play

The amusing, satirical fantasy, The Mouse That Roared, was presented on April eighth and ninth. Leading roles in the large cast were played by Mary Rogers, Jim Smith, Jon Garner, Brad Collis, David Rogers, and Ross Safford. The unusual costumes and brilliant setting were particularly attractive.

Sherry Brown, David Rogers, Connie Irwin, Mary Rogers, Jim Smith, Virginia Barriager, Brad Collis, Lois Shelp

The Thespians prophesied accurately,
"When the Hurlyburly's Done,
Vassar Will Have Won."

The juniors exhorted,
"Trumpet to Victory."

The freshmen promised,
"We'll Clean 'Em Up!"

Choir

The choir had a good year under the direction of Mr. Heath. Its size increased greatly in comparison to the last few years; about a hundred members crowded the music room. This year they were able to meet twice a week during the school day, although the periods were not long.

Choir members participated with the band in the Christmas and spring concerts and sang at the Baccalaureate exercises. A small group also sang for the Rotary Club.

Awards

Jim Temple receives the Sportsmanship award.

Rob Johnson is named Best Athlete.

Judy Gavit receives a trophy given for the first time, for high proficiency in shorthand, one hundred forty words a minute.

Mr. Whitney presents the Alpha Beta awards to Sherry Brown, freshman, Janice Holzhei, sophomore, and David DeCou, junior.
