

You may give them your love but not your thoughts,
For they have their own thoughts.

You may house their bodies but not their souls,
For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.

You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you.

For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.

Kahlil Gibran

Time is but the stream I go a-fishing in. I drink at it; but while I drink I see the sandy bottom and detect how shallow it is.
Its thin current slides away, but eternity remains.

Laughter is Wine for the soul.

A laugh is the loud echo of a sigh; sigh the faint echo of a laugh. A laugh is a great stimulation, a push, full entry into life, and once we can laugh,
we can live.

Go placidly amid the noise and haste and remember what peace
there may be in silence.
Whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its shame, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be care-

Every part of nature teaches that the passing away of one life is the making room for another. The oak dies down to the ground, leaving within its rind a rich virgin mould, which will impart a vigorous life to an infant forest.

I'm not very bad, Lord. I'm free from most sin.
Swing open the gates, Lord! Just let me walk in.
I followed Your teachings, I've read every chapter.
I kept the commandments, what more are you after?
Those tears in Your eyes, Jesus, what can it be?
I've been really good Jesus, isn't that what you see?
Answer me now, I want to know why,
Must I suffer this torment like others and die?

You swore not, you drank not, you kept your slate clean,
But without accepting my son, what did it all mean?

ME, MYSELF, AND I

We do, we don't, anything we wish, we do,
Me, myself, and I

In fantasy or reality, we even pretend to do,
Me, myself, and I

But now we grow old, and our ways are changing,
Me, myself, and I

Now we are old, time passed us by,
Me, myself, and I

But we three forever, we stick together,
Me, myself, and I

— Ben MacArthur

At the End of Love

A perfect relationship, or so we thought, has begun to die.

It's lost its flavor, it's no longer new and alive, it's tasteless and without change.

It drones on endlessly, pleasing no one — yet not hurting either.

A good friendship is slipping away.

We can no longer talk.

Words are time fillers — not informers.

Time spent together isn't time enjoyed — just time spent.

An honest emotion is nowhere to be found.

The touch of a hand or the wisp of a smile no longer has true meaning.

Reality is lost.

A kiss is no longer emotional or a show of feeling — it's a pastime.

To be held in your arms or to have you in mine is not done in feeling — it's done in habit.

With no emotion there can't be love.

You don't solve problems with a kiss.

by Jean

A Prayer to Man

*If I forget thee of God, forgive me,
For I was created in your image
Therefore meant to take your place,
When the need for a God is gone,
A man has reached perfection.
Oh if I forget thee dear God, Forgive me.*

by Ben MacArthur

Me Different, conformed Stepping to the Same drum, yet marching Differently

by David Empey

Keith's Car

*A dodge, tan and not new with a muffler that thunders
It roars to my door step every morning, ready to carry me to school
It seems a friend, this clean polished car, as it takes me out into the world.
Although it sticks in second gear and its radio quit long ago, I never ask for another.*

by Jean

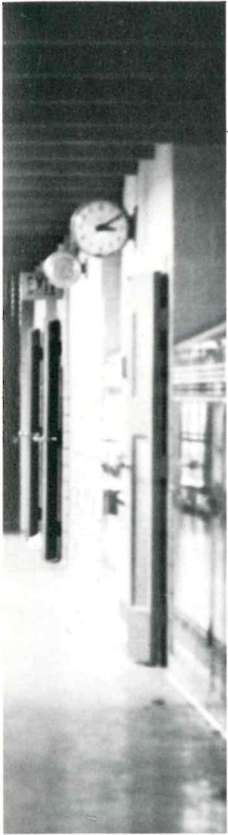

I am a star.
 A star of the universe
 I stand alone
 Yet I am not alone
 I am surrounded by other stars
 Other beings
 Other members of the universe
 We are equal
 We are one
 Yet we are not one
 We are different
 Our pride separates us
 Our prejudice separates us
 Our hate separates us
 But, still we are equal.
 I am a star
 A star of the universe
 I stand alone

by Sue Chrysler

A Thought

It begins to quake in our innerself,
 It races through a network of mental bridges and It finally slams into the central control and There, the miracles of the mind change it, from thought,
 To memory, which can never be forgotten.
 God has given us a gracious gift,
 Or has he?

Time

Never ending consuming us all touching each each and everything, Infinity

I am a sympathizer.
I try to look at all points of view in every situation.
I find it hard to take sides, whether one is right or wrong,
I find myself seeking all truths
So I may learn the truth about myself

Mostly when I listen to music my mind goes back to the past.
I think back to the days of tricycles and hide and seek and my first day of school, or the little mongrel dog who was definitely my best friend at one time.

UNWANTED

Unwanted as a car that won't run,
A sun that gives off icy cold rays,
Or a retarded child of rich, distinguished people.
That's as unwanted as I am.

by Connie Forsyth

SHE

A girl fathomless eyes
The devil incarnate which is evil as all man's vexes sin

by Tyre Proffer

I've known a piece of life,
its bitter lessons,
the sweetened songs of joy.
I've known a searching,
I have found nothing.
I've felt a realm of things:
peace, war, love, skepticism.
I've known a piece of life;
have I known the truth?

by Tyre Proffer

NO, I SAY

When someone asks me what I think of this life

It bothers me a lot — 'cause I don't know if this is life.

Life is cause and effect.
For every problem you solve, multitudes are born up.

When you think you've found joy or love does it last?

I am my only friend
I go to school and meet a lot of people
They talk to me, walk with me,
They pretend to like me
I am my only friend
I never get to go the places they attend
I spend a lot of time alone
I live alone with others
I am my only friend

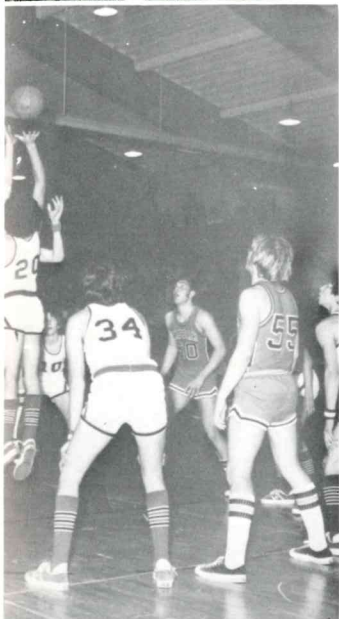

LONELINESS IS A SENSE

How does loneliness feel?
Like snow on tear stained cheeks.
How does it sound?
Like winter wind echoing through a holey barn.
How does it smell?
Like gas in an old car.
What does it look like?
Like a little leaf,
being blown over the snows of December.

by Kathy

Loneliness is an old woman Waiting for someone to come and talk to her.
 Loneliness is an empty bottle
 Lying deserted on an empty beach.
 Loneliness is a football stadium Standing empty waiting for a crowd to warm its cold benches.
 Loneliness is a child Sitting in a street crying for someone to care for him.
 Loneliness is an empty house
 Leaning to its side.

What am I? I am a book
 People judge me by my cover
 And don't even give my inside feelings
 A chance.

by Peg Grimshaw

Happiness is seeing a child smile when he's been crying.
 Happiness is seeing a flower grow where you thought none would ever grow.

Happiness is knowing someone who's been very ill has passed through the critical stage.

Happiness is knowing what you're going to do in life and being satisfied with your decision.

Happiness means making someone else happy.

Happiness is knowing that even though you have nothing else, you have love.

by Peg Grimshaw

Listen for the quiet
 In the city streets at night.
 Listen for the quiet
 At a concert in New York City.
 Listen for the quiet
 Through the noise of war.
 Listen for the quiet
 That ends your fondest dreams.
 Listen for the quiet
 At the end of a prayer.

*What am I?
by Kathy*

*What am I?
I am a small leaf,
Unimportant
Except to friends of nature,
But as different
As all leaves in the world.*
