Superintendent Retires

Mr. Teller shared an extra special year with the seniors, as this was also his last at Vassar High School. He announced in January of 1987 that he would be retiring as the superintendent of Vassar Public Schools.

Mr. Teller has been in the teaching profession for 36 years, the last 13 of them were spent at Vassar. He holds a bachelors, a masters, and a specialist degree from Eastern Michigan University. He began his teaching career as a junior high and elementary teacher at Utica. He later became the elementary principal and then moved on to junior high assistant principal. Mr. Teller began his move towards becoming a superintendent at the East China School District where he was in charge of curriculum and certified personnel. He then moved to Vassar Public Schools as superintendent.

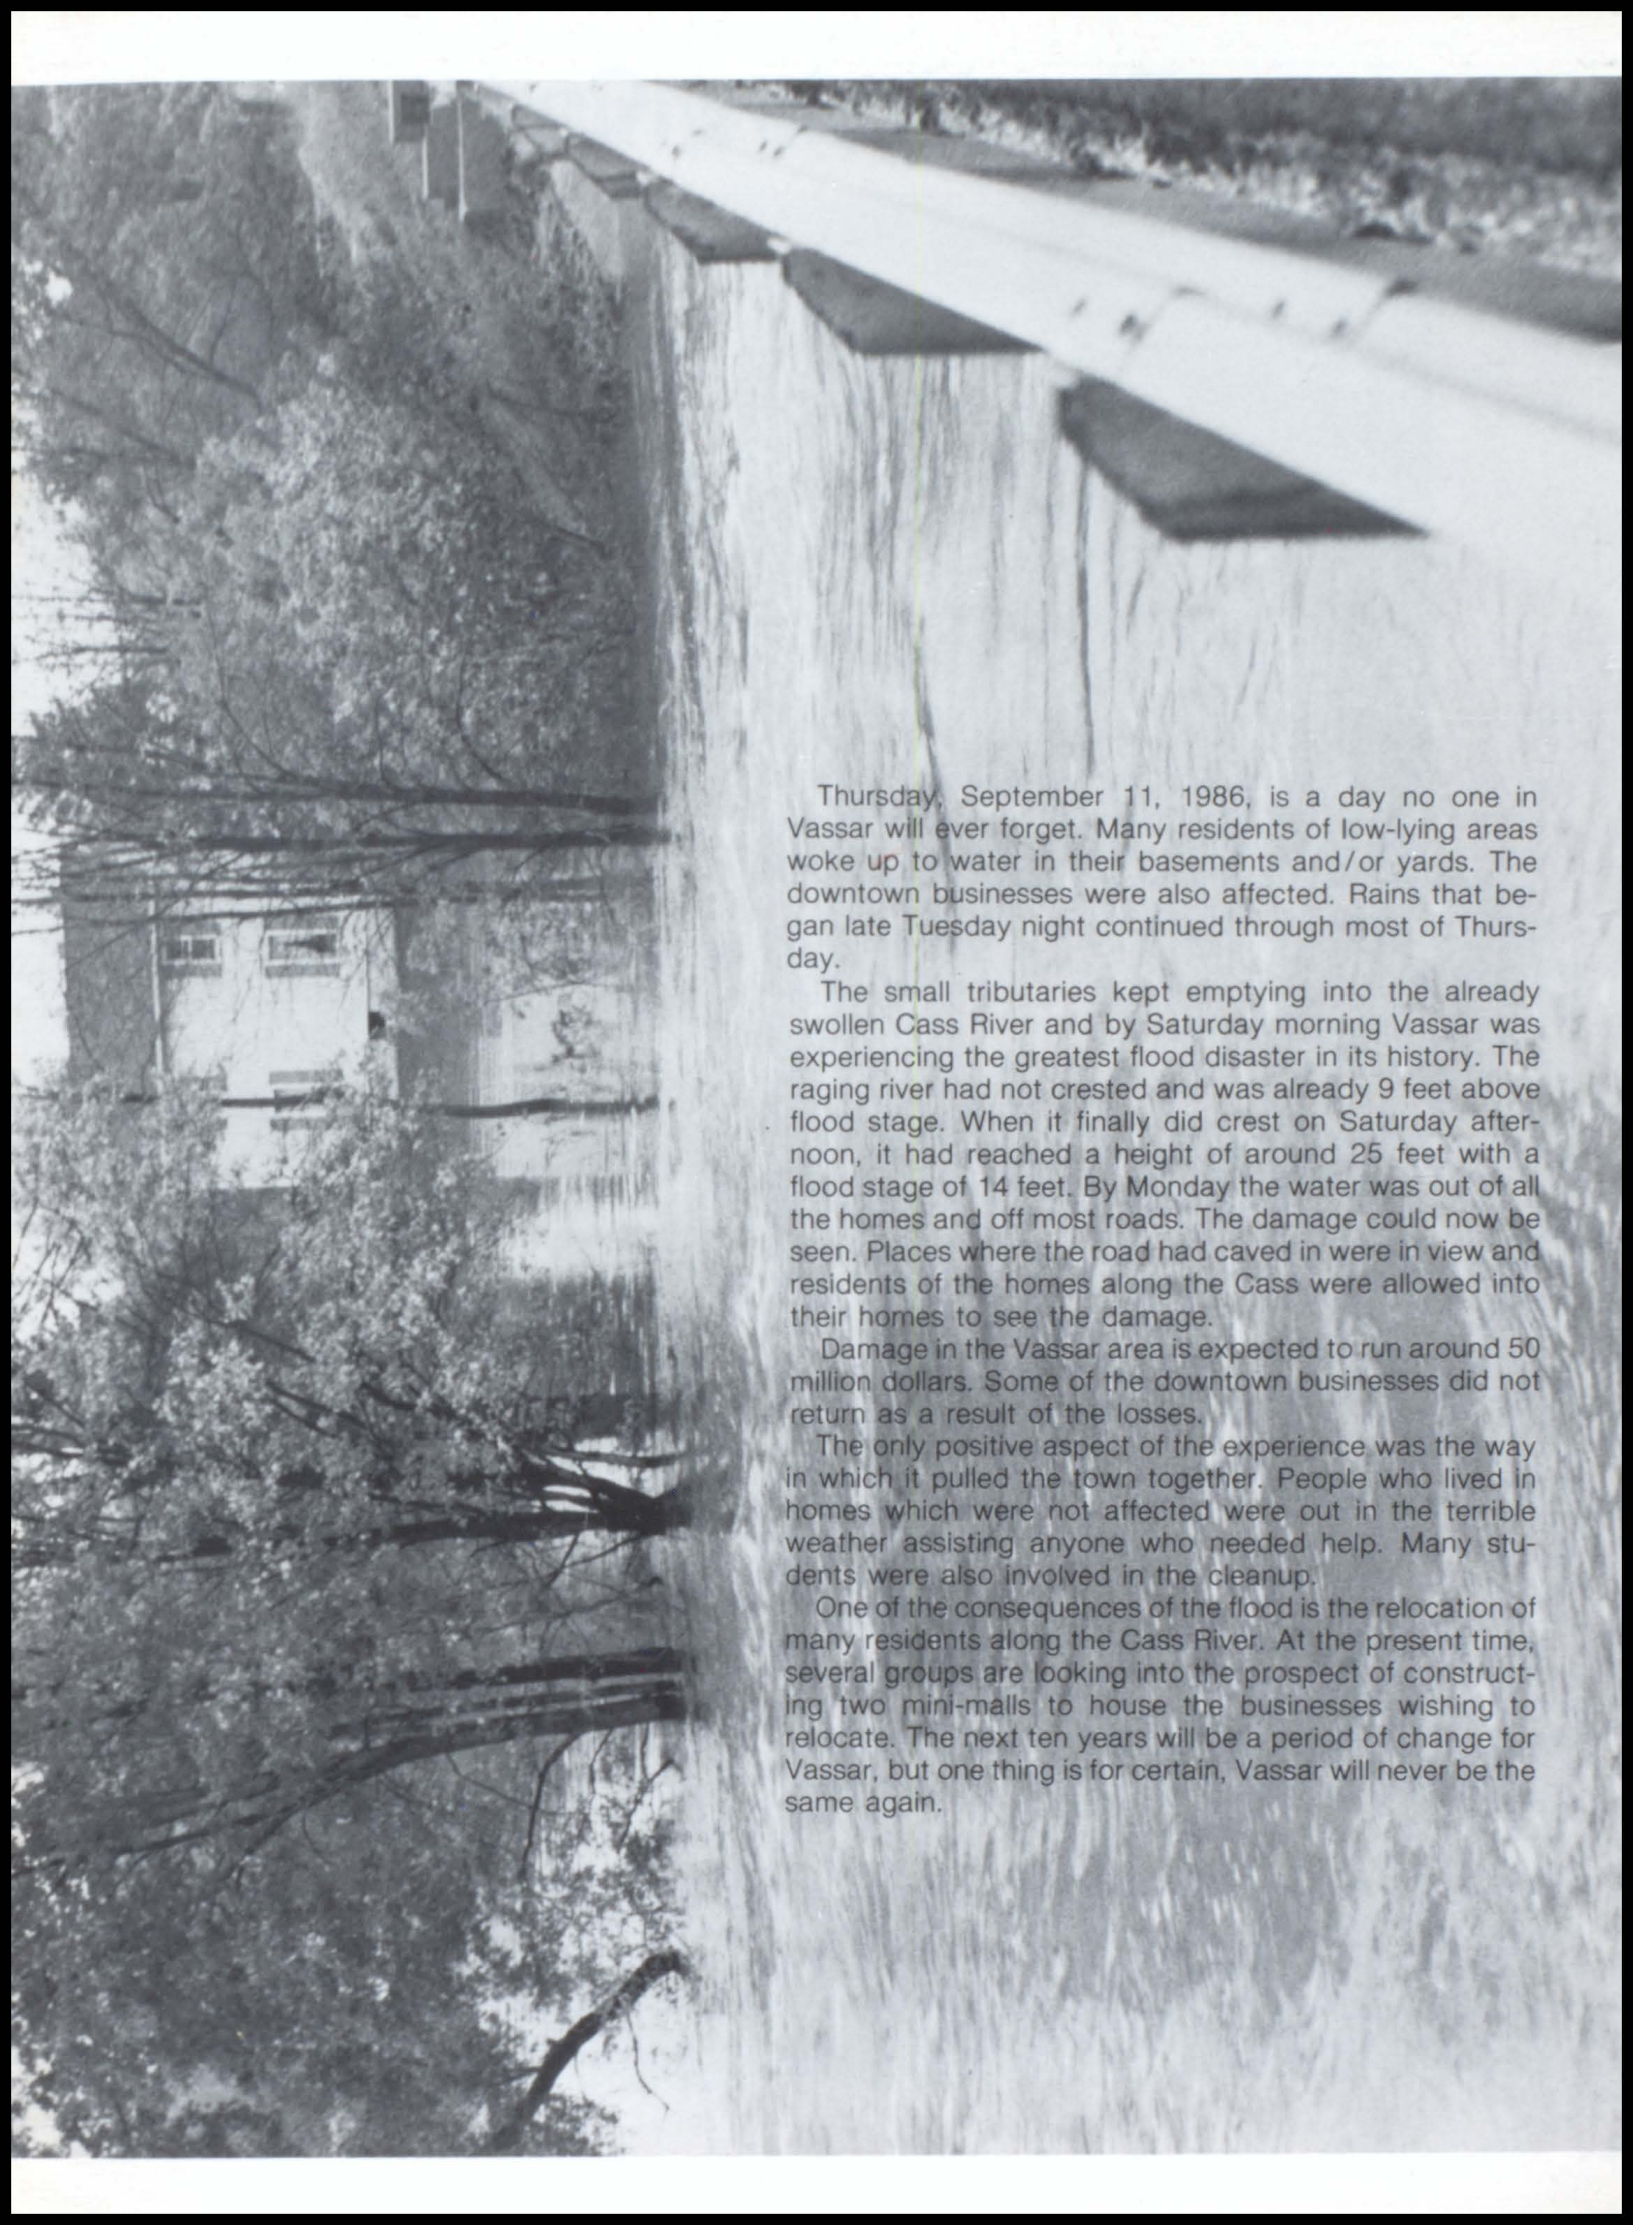

"Working here has not always been easy," stated Mr. Teller, "but the people of the community support the school. The school is a place for a good, sound education, and I hope that people of the Vassar school district will continue to support the school."

When asked about his most positive experience at VHS, Mr. Teller commented, "This may not sound very positive, but it is when the first millage had been defeated. Just two weeks after I had first started as superintendent at VHS, I had to go before the board with ideas on where cuts had to be made. Needless to say, things did not start off on the right foot. Since then some of the same people have been my best supporters. I learned that night if things were going to work out for the best, we had to work together and we have."

Mr. Teller plans on taking a month off once he retires so he can get settled in his new home. After he has adjusted to his new life, he is going to either begin work at a school supply company or a financial institution. "Whatever I do I'm going to make sure that I have more spare time. I congratulate the seniors and wish them the best of luck in all their future endeavors."

The ECHO staff and the Vassar schools and community wish Mr. Teller the best of luck in his future.

Thursday, September 11, 1986, is a day no one in Vassar will ever forget. Many residents of low-lying areas woke up to water in their basements and/or yards. The downtown businesses were also affected. Rains that began late Tuesday night continued through most of Thursday.

The small tributaries kept emptying into the already swollen Cass River and by Saturday morning Vassar was experiencing the greatest flood disaster in its history. The raging river had not crested and was already 9 feet above flood stage. When it finally did crest on Saturday afternoon, it had reached a height of around 25 feet with a flood stage of 14 feet. By Monday the water was out of all the homes and off most roads. The damage could now be seen. Places where the road had caved in were in view and residents of the homes along the Cass were allowed into their homes to see the damage.

Damage in the Vassar area is expected to run around 50 million dollars. Some of the downtown businesses did not return as a result of the losses.

The only positive aspect of the experience was the way in which it pulled the town together. People who lived in homes which were not affected were out in the terrible weather assisting anyone who needed help. Many students were also involved in the cleanup.

One of the consequences of the flood is the relocation of many residents along the Cass River. At the present time, several groups are looking into the prospect of constructing two mini-malls to house the businesses wishing to relocate. The next ten years will be a period of change for Vassar, but one thing is for certain, Vassar will never be the same again.

The Mighty Cass

In the photo above, the flood waters were just beginning to rise. Since it had happened before, no one was too worried. By the time it was over, however, residents in the Heritage Valley Inn had been evacuated, Dancer's windows were gone and whatever couldn't be saved was floating down the river, as was the case for many other businesses. The flood was not without its ironies, though.

Tables in the Heritage Valley Inn were sent floating to the ceiling as the waters rose. When they receded and the tables returned to "earth", some were still set with napkins, dishes, and tableware undisturbed.

Four youths in the photo to the right row through the middle of town to catch a glimpse of the flooded businesses. Rowboats and, later on, motorboats were used to shuttle people from one side of town to the other because there was no other way to get across.

Only certain vehicles could or dared venture through in the early flood stages. Before it was over, Vassar was declared a disaster area and the National Guard was called in to control the situation. Those businesses still in operation, plus all the churches and civic groups in town, banded together to feed, clothed and shelter those in need.

Many of our students pitched in when the clean-up began. Without a doubt, the Flood of '86 will long be remembered.

Nearly Did Us In!!

In the photo above, City Hall and the Tom Thumb Market gas pumps are completely surrounded by the Cass River flood waters which were nearing their peak.

At left, Vassar resembles a ghost town as the high water caused everyone to evacuate the flooded area. Looking straight down Huron at the Atkins Hardware awnings, you can see how high the waters went. The Cass rose so fast (below left) that many car owners had no time to remove vehicles from the flooded area; one car even went floating down the river. The photo below shows the parking lot and alley way behind Atkins' main store, one of the unlucky businesses that fell prey to the mighty Cass.

What's the matter Chris, don't you like the lunch?

Seniors

(Top Left): Senior Class Officers for 1987 were: Jim Comstock, vice-president; Lisa Davenport, president; Beth Bergdolt, secretary and Lorianne DeCoe, treasurer; Mr. Whitney explains the Laws of Moses to Beth Bergdolt; Kelly Reinert finishes her first grade coloring assignment (it's no surprise it took her 12 years!) Seriously though, Kelly received Honorable Mention for the Detroit Free Press Academic All State Team; Jenny Stafford and Monica Frank smile for the camera; Physics students work hard at doing nothing.

Seniors

(top left) Marianne Callahan goes through the annual ritual of signing pictures for a cast of thousands; Cindy Messer takes a "break" before hopping up the stairway; taking a picture is a "peace" of cake for Teresa Bissonnette; Cathy Shoens discovers that the only way to get through Journalism is to laugh.

Fun Time For Seniors

(top left) Senior Steve Vonk guards his beach ball as Shawn McFarland dares him to let go; rare footage of the "Burger" creature attacking a "tiny" victim like Beth Bergdolt; Beth overcomes her fear of "monsters" and dives into the pool; Scott McFarland explains to Lysandra French that there are no piranhas in the pool; "Super-Gaudreau" goes to the rescue to save Jason Collis from the endless depths of McFarland's pool.

Senior Lunch

(top) Fran Folino applauds as Jeff Hilligan was surprised and "honored" when he received the first ever "Water Pistol" award from Mr. Wojno; Chris Gunther leads the line through as seniors were treated to an extra-special lunch by the cafeteria staff.

Senior Lunch

Seniors chow down!; Brian Bushong was one of the many seniors who enjoyed the special day — a final moment of celebration together before everyone went their separate ways.

Administration/Staff

Members of the 1986-87 Vassar School Board are: (front) Mr. Earl Begg, Vice-President; Mr. Ed Vernon, Trustee; Mr. Stilson, President; Mrs. Laura Stafford, Treasurer; (back) Mr. Kirk Van Wormer, Secretary; Mr. Marv Rupprecht, Trustee and Mr. David Lien, Trustee.

Fall Play

Vassar students performed in "The Worst High School Play in the World" in early fall. The play, a laugh-filled production of all the things that can go wrong in a high school play, was well-received by the audience. It gave many of our students a chance to try their hand at true comedy. In the photo above left, Sharon DeGraw and Dawn Diebold have just finished their make-up, assisted by Mrs. Rittenberg, assistant director; Brenda Fillhard gives us a "Let's get this show on the road!" look as she waits her turn for make-up; Heidi Sinclair and Kim Davenport go over some last minute script changes; Angie Hoover and Christy Bielski wait for the finishing touches before they go on; and Colleen Deike helps Hanna Heinlein with her hair as Pam Maleck psychs up for her role. The play starred Joel Comstock, Herb Grimshaw, Rod Sinclair, and Becca Surmont.

Sno-Ball

1987

Symphonic Band

Members of the 1986-87 Symphonic Band are (front 1.): Rhonda Glynn, Tonya Murdock, Sharmon Kuzma, Brenda Fillhard, Kris Esckelson, Sue Mills, Alice Anthony, Susan Rose, Laurel White, Andrea Opperman; (2nd) Anita Ramirez, Heidi Blasius, Jenny Dues, Diane Gray, Richelle Moorner, Holly LaBean, Gretchen Caldwell, Wendy Leach, Wilbert Lyles, Sherry Rapson, Doug Warle, Lysandra French, Andrea Heidenberger, Bill Carstens; (3rd) Michelle Kibbe, Miss Levine, Jeff Krieger, Troy Leach, Holly Kibbe, Jim Atkins, Danny Sholty, Laura Balli, Normaleena Ramirez, Missy Swinton, Dominie Ramirez, Paul Weeks, Matt Cox, Deanna Bergdolt, Jamie Becker, Heidi Rupprecht; (4th) Mimah Millerov, Robbie Slack, Dennis Dietrich, David Vernon, Robert Grimshaw, Todd Szagesh. (Missing: Kris Trog, Cheri Vigenski, Amanda Leach, Sarah Rupprecht, Craig Jones.)

Wind Ensemble

Spring Play

(top photo) In the opening scenes, River City townspeople talk with each other about the music man that has come into town. River City society ladies were played by Autumn Nancarrow, Sharon DeGraw, Colleen Deike, Kathy Farnham, Mindy Smith, and Alice Anthony.

"The Music Man"

The city teenagers (l.) Brian Hackett, Laura Balli, Jason Manier, Mimah Millerov, Heidi Rupprecht, Joel Comstock, Tricia Cox and Joe Reinfelder dance with joy as they begin the town's holiday celebration.

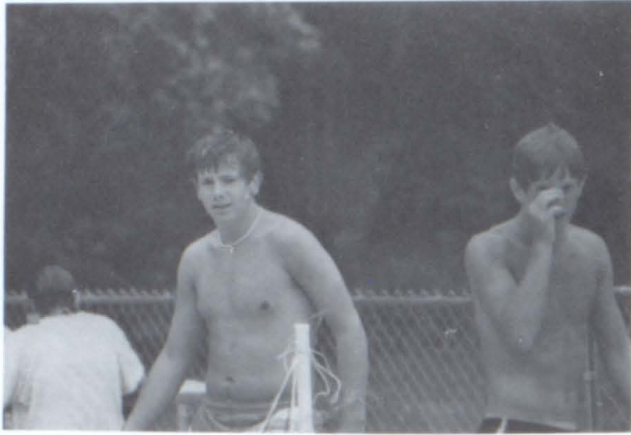

The lead roles were played by Dewey Rapson, the Music Man, Professor Harold Hill, and Tammie Burley, Marian the Librarian.

Corey Haines played the professor's best friend, Marcellus.

Student Senate Picnic

Student Senate Picnic

(top) Brenda Putman, Becca Surmont, and Sarah Rupprecht sit back and think of all they could be doing, but instead, they take it easy for the day; Joanna Timm shows off her skills while playing water volleyball; Jill Moore, "the bottomless pit", fills up on popcorn.

Prom — May 9, 1987

(top) Everyone at the prom gathers to say "cheese!"; prom King Wilbert Lyles and Prom Queen Pauline Morell dance happily together; Mr. and Mrs. John Voss were guests of honor at the 1987 prom.

"Tender Love"

Publications Staff

Honors Banquet

(photo above 1.) Mr. Killian congratulates Fred Reinfelder as he received the Senior Artist Award; Scott McFarland and Beth Bergdolt received double honors — Scott was named Male MVP, Beth — Female MVP, both also received the Barbour Awards; Wilbert Lyles received the Sportsmanship Award from Mr. Johnson; Mr. Schury presented Julie Stolz with the Social Studies Award.

Honors Banquet

(Above left) Scott McFarland proudly awards a stunned Mrs. Buchman with the 1987 Teacher of the Year Award; Jason Manier receives the Math Award from Mr. McArdle; he also received the Senior Science Award; The Alpha Beta Award is given to that student from each class who makes the greatest contribution to the school for that year. The 1987 winners are: Junior Heidi Rupprecht; Sophomore Deanna Bergdolt; and Freshman Joe Reinfelder.

Honors Banquet

Honors Banquet

(above L.) Mrs. Kimmerly (center) is proud of her Outstanding Spanish students: (Lynda Kennard (L.), Spanish III, Laura Balli, Spanish I, Catrine Modig, special recognition, Mike Hohman, Spanish IV, and Adele Davis, Spanish II; Mr. McFarland was one of the many parents who took part in recognizing their students' academic achievements; (center photo) Mrs. Buchman congratulates her outstanding French students: Cathy Harpham (L.), French II, Kelly Reinert, French III, Catrine Modig, special recognition, and Lynda Kennard, French I; (bottom) Tammie Burley, Beth Bergdolt, Fred Reinfelder and Julie Stolz all received Vassar Schools Scholarship. Other awards presented included: The Moose Galloway Scholarship to Corey Haines; The Vassar Manufacturing Scholarship to Beth Bergdolt; U.S. Army Scholar Athlete Award to Beth Bergdolt and Scott McFarland; and the Gold Hammer Award to Brian Bushong.

Second Annual

Language Picnic

(top l.) Chris Whitney concentrates on the ring toss while his competition looks on; Hey, Tammie, show us some foot; "Okay, girls, let's smile for a group shot"

Graduation Day

May 31, 1987

(opposite page 1.) Mr. Essenmacher congratulated Scott McFarland and Beth Bergdolt as they received the Alpha Beta awards; Valedictorian Lisa Miner reminded all the graduates that a thank you to their parents was a must as they prepared to take the next step in their lives; Craig Tyson looks for his mini-diploma as Mr. Wojno assists him; confetti was the order of the day as the graduates got in their last word on the "confetti crisis." (this page top) Salutatorian Beth Bergdolt brought back many memories of life at VHS in her talk to the class; students were honored for all the scholarships they earned for college; Scott McFarland and Fred Reinfelder are caught in a moment of celebration earlier in the day. Fred had an extra reason to celebrate as his design for the official Tuscola County seal was the one accepted by the county commissioners.

Mr. Davis Retires After 28 Years In Education

After 28 years of teaching in the Michigan Public School system, Mr. Jim Davis has decided to retire. Mr. Davis, a science teacher, taught his first seven years in Springport, Michigan, and the remaining 21 years at Vassar High School.

"Coming to Vassar was almost accidental," he noted. "I received an application for Vassar from an administrator who had moved from Springport to Vassar. I filled it out, as I had nothing to lose. So here I am!" Mr. Davis was happy to move to Vassar because it was a bigger school system with more opportunity.

He feels there have been many accomplishments in his teaching career, but he listed getting the National Honor Society back on track and moving in the right direction as his greatest one.

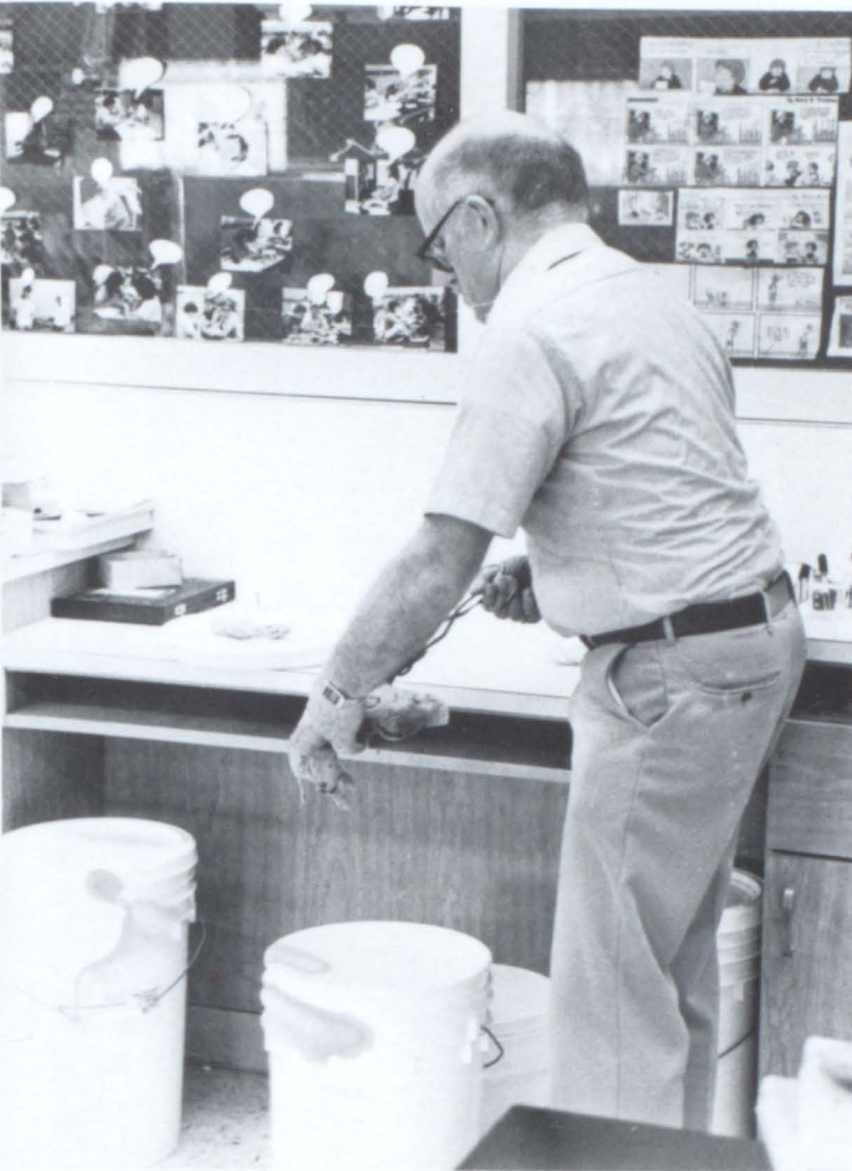

While acknowledging that there have been some up years and down years in his career, he said the bad aspects are so few and minor that they are overpowered by the many good things about teaching at Vassar.

Two honors that Mr. Davis has received over the years are Teacher of the Year in 1969 and The Advertiser Coach of the Year when he coached the Girls' Basketball team.

Mr. Davis commented that his greatest honor is seeing students of his go on in life and obtain their goals they have worked hard for.

While Mr. Davis may be leaving teaching, he is not yet ready to leave Vassar. He expects to be around this area for a few more years before heading south to Florida.

We will miss Mr. Davis. He is a man of integrity and honor who has touched all of our lives here at Vassar High. We wish him well in his future.

Mr. Davis in his dual roles as teacher and coach.

The class of '87 and the Echo staff gratefully thank all of the following advertisers for their continued support throughout the year.
